DETAILED ACTION

Receipt of Amendment

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the amendment filed 08 July 2002, in which title and abstract was amended, claims 7-9 were canceled, and claims 1-6 were amended.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Solokl et al. (US 6,173,269 B1, of record).

Solokl teaches a service for apportioning a credit line provided on a card for a teenager, the credit line apportioned such that only specific vendors or classes are accessible by the teen, as set forth by the activators of the card, normally a parent of the teen (col. 5, line 56 – col. 6, line 15). The parent can choose which class of goods the teen may purchase and how much credit (dollar amounts) he/she may spend on them (col. 9, lines 19-30). The teen can purchase goods via Internet or by telephone (col. 10, lines 57-66). With the service, information is monitored regarding spending limits per transaction and types of products purchased. Thus, a limit can be placed on any type of purchase as the parent may see fit. In addition, the art teaches that a number of cards maintained in a single account may be handled in an identical manner (col. 7, lines 7-21).

Art Unit: 2876

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 8 July 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The Examiner contends that the art of Solokl teaches the appropriation of credit line funds to the cards, as customizable by the authorizer of the credit line, as taught in the limitations of the claims. The authorizer of the credit line is able to regulate the type of transactions performed with the card and dollar amounts spent therewith (see rejection above). The Examiner finds that the teachings of Solokl are grounds of rejection for all the existing claims 1-6 as amended.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 2876

In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
